DEMANDS ACTION ON BUS LINE PERMIT APPLICATION

City Manager W. H. Reeves
in Attack on L. A. Board of Public Utilities

Declaring the transportation problem which confronts Glendale is very serious, City Manager W. H. Reeves on Saturday afternoon electrified members and visitors at the Los Angeles City Club with his attack on the board of public utilities in the metropolis.

George A. Damon of Pasadena, vice president of the County Regional Planning Conference, was another particular target of his remarks. Mr. Reeves stating that "he" (Damon) doesn't mind if the Pacific Electric charges 50 cents for a round trip to Pasadena, where he resides, because as one person said, "The only trouble with the inhabitants of Pasadena is that they come here to die."

"Something has got to be done," said Mr. Reeves. "We do not propose to be strangled to death. We are surely going to do something. Mr. Gulick, who lives in Glendale—the fastest growing city in America—has volunteered his services to the city after having made a considerable fortune in the bus business in California."

Mr. Reeves then told of tribulations faced by the city in obtaining a permit for the bus line from the board of public utilities. "We ask you to lend your influence in aiding Glendale in this fight," he concluded.

Other inter-city problems were considered by speakers and the following committee was introduced:

Members of Committee
Wyllis S. Abbot, of the Abbot-Kinney Company of Venice, chairman; Rev. Dana Bartlett of Beverly Hills, Chas. C. Chapman of Fullerton; George A. Damon of Pasadena; George Dunlop of Hollywood and Lamanda Park; Lyle Pendegast of Los Angeles and Vernon, secretary.

Among the other speakers were A. W. Frye, president of the club; A. G. Bartlett, president-emeritus; Prof. Harold J. Stonier of the University of Southern California, who made a scholarly talk on co-operation of communities; Dr. George P. Clements and Robertson Abbot of Eagle Rock; C. Gordon Whitnall, city planning expert of Los Angeles; Prof. Cheney of the Palos Verdes project; Hugh Pomroy of Redondo Beach, the latter enlisting aid in the fight on the Windermere plan of re-portionment in the state legislature.

Girl Scouts in Tests During Their Outing

The Girl Scouts, who left Friday to spend the week-end at a cabin in the Arroyo Seco, report a pleasant and profitable trip, in spite of the cold rain that threatened to ruin the day. It was cold, and snowed and sleeted a little in the canyon, but they had a splendid fire in the cabin, and were very comfortable. And "Pig," Lucile Beach's pet dog, who is very fond of camp life, stood guard very faithfully. The girls took various tests, among them several merit badges.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brant motored up to the cabin Sunday, arriving in time for lunch, and spent a pleasant two hours with them. They motored home, arriving early in the evening. The Scouts were Lina Borthick, Mary Stanley, Lucile Beach, Frederica Browne, Alexandria Bagley and the captain, Miss Gladys Sharpe.

D. T. Keim Honored on His 71st Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Keim of 342 West California avenue entertained with a family dinner party yesterday in celebration of the seventy-first birthday anniversary of Mr. Keim. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McClellan and son Wilbur of La Verne, Hugh McClellan of La Verne, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Keim and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Thomas of Glendale, and members of Mr. Keim's immediate family. He received many gifts, including money, in remembrance of his birthday. The dinner was followed by a general social good time.

Legion Dance Proves to Be Large Success

At the ex-service men's second dance of the spring series, which was given Saturday night at the American Legion hall at 610 East Broadway, one of the largest crowds of the season was present, the attendance being estimated at eighty couples. This social event was in charge of a committee consisting of Chalmers Day, Gordon Clayton and Jim Henry Ilse. Music for dancing was furnished by Rattray's five-piece orchestra. The next dance of the series will be held on April 1.

W. T. Lewis Is in Hospital

W. T. Lewis of 210 North Hartwick street, Eagle Rock, was operated upon this morning at the Glendale Sanitarium Hospital.

Glendale Leads in Outside Membership in L. A. City Club

Record representation in the ranks of the Los Angeles City Club is claimed by Glendale. Twenty-eight members of that organization reside here. Pasadena comes next with twenty, while practically every other community in the county is represented in the 3000 membership. A drive is to be launched to get a greater number of suburban residents in the club in order that inter-city problems may be worked out, according to Wyllis Abbot, chairman of the committee in charge of suburban days. He resides in Venice.

MAY FESTIVAL PLAN FURTHER OUTLINED AT CONFERENCE

Harry Girard and Mrs. Gibson Urge Interest Be Shown in Proposed Pageant

Glendale's 1923 May festival was the topic of discussion this morning at the high school during a brief conference on the subject between Harry Girard, originator of the idea, and Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, head of the music department of Glendale Union high school.

The plan was outlined for a festival, which would co-ordinate the various aesthetic tendencies of the community in the production of a pageant which could not fail to be a credit to Glendale, it is asserted.

"Let's do something to put Glendale on the map!" exclaimed Mr. Girard recently, referring to the need for continuous activity on the part of the community in the production of the town don't want to take up music, let's take up something else. If anybody has a better idea, let him come forward."

Mr. Girard is meeting much encouragement in the furtherance of his scheme and several hundred people have made inquiries to him about it. From the sentiment expressed he has no doubt of the success of the enterprise, it is declared.

Acting Chief Making Department Additions

Acting Police Chief William A. Loving is bringing the department to its full complement of officers by the following appointments:

Acting motorcycle officer—A. Kerns.

Acting plainclothes officers—L. C. Stine and J. H. Lauritzen.

Acting patrolmen—Clinton T. McLane, I. F. LaRock and R. Edwards.

Other changes are expected in the several shifts to make for greater efficiency, although the department is functioning unusually well.

It is understood that scores of applications for positions from the position of chief down to office boy, have been received, many having a desire to become detective sergeants.

Chief Loving is following the policy of making promotions to acting positions from the ranks and initiating new officers as patrolmen. Desk Sergeant James Mann is ill, it is stated.

Bacon is president, and which will be held at the Hartz residence at Laurel street and Brand boulevard Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the speaker will be Catherine Hughes, of the California state legislature. U. S. WANTS $241,000,000

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13.—The intention of the United States to collect the $241,000,000 for compensation for keeping the American army of occupation on the Rhine, was expressed with vigor at the state department in the face of reports from Paris that the allied finance ministers were not disposed to grant priority to the American claim.

For the allied ministers to turn down this claim would be one of "the most extraordinary things that ever happened," a high state department official said.

HARRY ATWOOD TO SPEAK

A large attendance is expected for the regular meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. E. B. Wyman is president, at the school cafeteria Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, at which time Harry P. Atwood of Chicago will give a lecture on "Better Americanism, or the Constitution of the United States."

MAKES APPEAL FOR 18TH AMENDMENT ENFORCEMENT

Colonel Dan Morgan Smith
if 'Battalion of Death' Tells of Experiences

Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, commander in France of the famous "Battalion of Death" attracted a large audience last night to the union services in the First Methodist church. Every seat both downstairs and in the gallery was occupied and a number of latecomers were obliged to stand. Over 1200 persons were in attendance, it was estimated.

Colonel Smith came to Glendale under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League. He made a strong appeal for the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and support of the constitution. In this work he has addressed large audiences in forty-three states and is now completing his tour of the Pacific states. He has nothing but praise for California. In fact, he is so well pleased with this state that he is returning to his home in Chicago, to bid his many friends there goodbye, and return to California as a permanent place of residence, he said.

Served Under Everington
During the war Colonel Smith, then a major, served under Colonel James W. Everington of 531 North Louise street, now chief of police of Los Angeles.

"In giving you some of my experiences in the war I wish to say at the outset that I have no desire to glorify war," stated Colonel Smith. "No glory at all in war, but a series of horrors. My prayer is 'Oh God, give to America and all the world eternal peace.'"

In graphic style the horrors of the battle field and actual conflict were described by Colonel Smith. He told how his battalion was ordered forward into who was considered a hopeless encounter, fought all night with the Germans in front and on both sides and won the battle the following morning, but losing 793 of the 1120 men who entered the drive.

Back Privates Real Heroes
Although Colonel Smith paid a number of tributes for heroism to individuals and spokes especially of the courage of the wire cutters in No Man's land and the fearlessness of the motorcycle runners speeding along unknown roads without lights, he asserted that the real heroes of the war were the American back privates. He said he was somewhat surprised to find himself advertised as a hero upon his return to this country.

With a laugh, he said his home town paper had first attributed the town paper had first attributed the winning of the war to General Pershing and himself—and then had left out General Pershing.

War Against Bootlegger
"Now we have another war on," declared Colonel Smith. "It is the bootlegger, the liquor interests against the same constitution and government that we all fought for. I am not a reformer. I do not believe I am good enough to be one. I am not a minister, but I am an amateur soldier and I am proud to be in the fight against the enemy of the flag and constitution. The same responsibility is on us all now as in the war with Germany."

"It is not a question whether you like your drink or not, whether you favor prohibition or not, whether you had a say in the adoption or not. It is in the constitution and we are either traitors or patriots. A joke on the constitution is a crime for the constitution safeguards our country."

The executive meeting of the Glendale district C. E. Union was held yesterday afternoon in the Central Christian church.

Steps were taken to plan with the young people of Baptist and Methodist churches for a community service on Verdugo hills Easter morning. A rally and social was announced for Friday night, April 7, at the Glendale Presbyterian church.

The district convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Hollywood was discussed and many asserted their intention of attending. A stunt for Saturday night, which will be known as "Joy Night," is being planned by Howard L. Brown of 406 North Maryland avenue to represent Glendale.

Harry Marple of 1539 Glenwood avenue, new president of the Glendale Union C. E. had charge of the meeting yesterday.

Architect Alfred F. Priest, who has offices in Los Angeles and resides at 1422 North Central avenue, is taking bids for the two-story brick store and office building to be erected by the Monarch Auto Supply company on the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street. This business block will have four stores, two with mezzanines, nineteen offices, and be 115 by 75 feet in dimensions.

With its plate-glass show windows, marble lobby, marquee and terra cotta trim for its roofed brick facing, this building will be a most desirable adjunct to the business section of the city.

Mr. Priest also is completing plans for Charles P. Nesselroed's building on West Broadway, adjacent to the Ralphs block. The bill carries a total for the year 1922-23 of $270,353,030 which is nearly $88,000,000 less than the amount demanded by Secretary of War Weeks and General Pershing, and $116,000,000 short of the total appropriation for the present fiscal year.

DECAYING CABIN IN HILLS ONCE HAUNT OF DESPERADO?

'Hermit Who Existed in Hidden House Believed to Have Been Notorious Slayer

In the olden, golden days of the wild west, Glendale and its tributary territory was infested by bad, bold bandits. From Verdugo canyon north into the Big and Little Tujunga canyons, thence through the Monte Vista valley to San Fernando, they used to have their run and only the padres were able to traverse the territory with any degree of safety.

Visitors to the Big Tujunga yesterday, who ventured a little farther than the casual traveler found a crumbling cabin in a most secluded spot among the trees and underbrush. The rains are washing away the ruins, for it was probably built some time in the latter part of 1857, although it might have been several years later. No one knows.

The Tujunga friend, who accompanied the party told a rambling tale which has been given credence in several publications and provides the climax for one of the most thrilling chapters in American history, although it is seldom seen in history books.

Faces Living Death
"A hermit lived here," the story started, "and no doubt he played a part in the banditry that was rife in the early sixties of the past century. At any rate, his cabin was the most inaccessible spot for officers, and no one dared visit his domain unless they were without the pale of the law."

"Why did he come to this cavernous place?" you ask? "Well, he too, was without the law—the betrayer of his fellow men, who was forced to a literally living death for his part in the Mountain Meadow massacre. Back in the year 1857, shortly after Utah had been admitted to the union, an immigrant train was making its way overland to the El Dorado when they were set upon by a band of Indians, if you believe history. But a handful survived the massacre, and two Mormons, John D. Lee and Isaac Haight then appeared on the scene."

Takes Part in Slaughter
"By artful argument and assurances that Mormons were safe from the 'motors,' the two men were employed as guides. After some distance over the desert had been traversed seventeen of the remaining twenty were killed. It took seventeen years for the federal government to hold the several Mormon leaders responsible, and Lee was executed, but Haight had long since disappeared."

"This is the man who lived the hermit's life in the Big Tujunga, having fled from the scene of his crime and, although federal officers knew he was here, probably, none cared to take their chances in the desperado's nest. Years later when Haight was known to be dead, his relatives came from Utah, it is said, and took care of the grave."

"Come up from Glendale next Sunday and I'll tell you another story," said the old-timer, in conclusion. If Tujunga doesn't look out, we have folk lore equal to Sleepy Hollow."

Executive Board of Mothers' Club Meets

A short meeting of the executive board of the Acacia Street Mothers' Club, Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. William Alexander is president, was held at the school Friday afternoon, at which time instructions were given the various officers and committee chairmen relative to having in their yearly reports by April 5. An announcement was also made of the district conference to be held in Glendale on April 4.

Income Tax Returns Must Be in by March 15

Now that you have forgotten, perhaps, to register for the April election, the next thing to remember is your income taxes. You simply must make a return and pay 25 per cent down by March 15 or pay the penalty, including a fine or imprisonment. There are a score or more of people ready to help and advise you with the papers and it will be a lot cheaper to get the tax work done now than later.

MRS. FARRELL AT VENICE

Mrs. Kathryn Farrell of 435 West Patterson avenue was the Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson at Venice. Mrs. Farrell's daughter, Miss Kathryn Farrell, returned yesterday from Fresno, where she has been for the past three weeks in the business interests of a Los Angeles firm. Mrs. Farrell has received word that her son, Lieutenant J. G. Farrell, has arrived at Mare Island from Honolulu and expects to visit Glendale in the course of a couple of weeks.

examination out to any great length." In his cross-examination today Keyes began with the point of Mrs. Obenchain's story in which she met Kennedy on the day of the murder and went with him for the automobile ride which had its fateful finish in the tragedy at his cabin in Beverly Glen. While the examination of Mrs. Obenchain was being completed it was learned that the prosecution had called a number of surprise witnesses who were expected to spring a new sensation in the case when they are called to give rebuttal testimony. The names of these witnesses and their evidence was kept secret.

LLOYD GEORGE TO MAKE STATEMENT SOON ON INDIA

LONDON, March 13.—That Premier Lloyd George will make a statement in parliament upon the political situation in India as soon as he returns from his vacation at Criccieth, Wales, was intimated today. A dispatch from the Welsh town quoted the premier as saying that he could "only answer the assertions of E. S. Montagu, former secretary for India, upon the floor of the house of commons." It is understood that Mr. Montagu's resignation was forced by the premier because of the former's pro-Moslem policy.

PERSHING DISREGARDED AND SIZE OF ARMY REDUCED

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Disregarding the advice of General Pershing and other big army officers, the house appropriations committee today fixed the size of the American army at not more than 11,000 officers and 115,000 men. No provision for the pay and maintenance of a greater number was contained in the army supply bill, reported out, and certain of passage. The evident intent of congress to slash along the line in military and naval appropriations was noted again in a provision of the bill designed to force the return of American troops from China.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS SEEK TO PREVENT BIG STRIKE

WASHINGTON, March 13.—While a strike of soft coal miners is regarded as virtually certain, government officials renewed their efforts today to bring about a conference between the operators and miners as provided for in the 1920 pact. Secretary of Labor Davis, although disappointed at the attitude of certain operators in failing to agree to a council table gathering, is making other moves that may win over the rebellious operators. What the moves are he declines to say, holding that their effect might be lost if they were publicly discussed at this time.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Los Angeles' 'Untouchables'
Ruthless City Government
Metropolitan Problems
Something in 'Safety First'

By Gil A. Cowan

GLENDALE is not alone in its police sensations. Today we read that Police Chief James W. Everington of Los Angeles, who resides in peaceful Glendale, will not quit, as was reported in a Sunday paper.

The inference is—and has been—that there is a band of highbinders pulling strings in Los Angeles. Yes, there are certain "untouchables," who rule or ruin. Their influence is felt in Glendale, even!

And if they think the public does not know who they are, let them start after Everington, or words to that effect. Then he will tell—, if it takes a newspaper conducted by his estimable father to do so, perhaps.

At the City Club Saturday, Prof. Harold Stonier made a surprising assertion.

A great Chicago newspaper has sent a woman writer to Los Angeles to contribute a series of articles which will "stem the tide of industries and the flow of population to Southern California."

Then he told the story of a larger city doing the ruthless things through its government which, as individual citizens, people would not dare or care to sanction.

The solution for such problems is the education of the public to opinions which will permit of constructive work, rather than destructive. The professor advocated the leaders—not paid officials—of the various communities getting together on a common ground and "giving and taking" in a spirit of fairness which will build for all alike.

"We must do this over the conference table—planning, dreaming and fighting together, all working to bring our problems to a successful conclusion."

The Rev. Hugh Pomeroy of Redondo Beach told a good story, even if it wasn't the point.

"We're waking up," he said. "We are going to make Redondo a 'clean beach.' It has not been long since they shot a postman down there! He was mistaken for a confederate soldier."

Of course, that was only a "laugh," but there is something in a smile. It hasn't been so many years since that Glendale was a village. And now it is in the midst of police scandals, political imbrolios and heaven knows what not.

But, if the efforts expended are turned in the right direction, the destiny of this city cannot be questioned. There are so many things to be done that the good citizens of Glendale can well afford to devote more of their time to matters of civic welfare.

A great thought was expressed by Professor Cheney at the City Club luncheon, too. In our government there is a minus quantity. In the olden days the federal, state, county, city and township organization served its purpose, but of recent years the metropolitan districts provide a new problem.

Sewage, boulevards, water supply and sundry other problems can be satisfactorily solved only through the formation of districts. He pointed to Boston as a leader along these lines.

This very thought has been expressed in The Glendale Evening News by Engineer Mulholland, Engineer Olmstead and others who are deeply interested in water and sewage problems. May there be more light on the subject of a metropolitan planning commission, rather than organization limited by city boundaries.

Safety First! There is something in it if you will read the report from a current bulletin issued by the Southern Pacific company. Here is something that is worthy of thought on the part of every motorist, rail employee or pedestrian:

"No fatalities occurred during 1921 to passengers on the Southern Pacific in train accident to steam train service. One passenger sustaining fatal injury in train accident was in a gasoline motor car which was set afire when run into by a motor truck loaded with gasoline. Of the three passenger fatalities in non-train service two jumped overboard from ferryboat apparently by suicidal intent and the other passenger riding on ferryboat was drowned either as result of jumping or falling overboard."

"None of the passenger fatalities in 1921 involved negligence, maintenance of track and equipment, compliance with rules and regulations or safe operation of trains."

Ghost of Antigonish Had An Understudy

PORTERVILLE, Calif., March 13.—If the now famous "Ghost of Antigonish" is a reality, Dr. J. E. Tetrault of this city would like to make its acquaintance. Back in 1885, Dr. Tetrault "understudied" the spirit unconsciously and since that time has steadfastly maintained that if there is any such ghost it is a very substantial one.

In Antigonish that year in the interests of the Canadian government, Tetrault came across some boys spearing fish. This was then against the law and to frighten the lads, the Porterville man decided to spin some flat rocks about the heads of the fishermen. These made a loud, humming noise. The next day every one in Antigonish, he says, was talking of the ghost which had been heaving rocks as big as cannon balls at children. Tetrault never ventured any explanation in Antigonish.

MEN'S CLASS GAINS RAPIDLY; PROVES VERY POPULAR

Keith L. Brooks, Leader of Organization, Talks on Religious Ceremonies

A large attendance was present in the city council room of the city hall yesterday morning at the weekly session of the Presbyterian Men's Class. A number announced that they had come in response to Saturday's advertisement in The Glendale Evening News.

"Many men, as soon as they get religious power, begin to load people down with new ceremonial duties unknown to the Word of God," declared Keith L. Brooks, teacher of the class. "Things had come to a pass where a Jew could not put anything into his mouth without washing his hands to remove ceremonial defilement. Jesus removed ceremonial defilement, but he declined to recognize this ceremony as a binding, religious ordinance simply because the elders said so."

"There are religious organizations that are cumbered with man-made doctrines and ordinances. The Word of God, if observed, would put an end to them. The most punctilious forms of worship are vain if backed only by the authority of a church or ecclesiastical leaders. Men may wash their hands all day to remove ceremonial defilement without affecting their relations to God in the least."

If Jesus Were Here

"If Jesus were here now, He would alter the religious standards of many people. He would put the emphasis where it belongs. He would take it off from any ceremony and put it on sanctity of heart and real consecration to God. Men will keep up the framework of religious appearance to the last. They will devote all their religion to outward acts and to going to church, but Jesus gets down to the man himself."

"What of these religious leaders and their adherents? 'Let them alone,' says Christ. 'They are blind leaders of the blind and, if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.' This is a striking expression of the ruinous effect of erroneous teaching. It shows how men may sincerely and religiously go to Hell."

World Full of Cults

"The following of false teachers is evidently not an excuse that can be pleaded before God. The Word of God exhorts us not to follow any man. Jesus Christ Himself is the way, the truth and the life. The world today is full of cults and 'isms' after which thousands are going. The philosophical unbelief of the present day is blind with self-conceit. Multitudes, who are pleased with high-sounding scientific words are leaving the teaching of the Word of God and leading for the ditch with those who deny the inspiration of the Scriptures, the Deity of Christ and all else that is fundamental to the Bible."

Pastor Says Prayer Is Most Powerful Thing in the World

"Transfigured Lives" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the First Methodist church.

"It is significant that so many of our lives are just ordinary," remarked Rev. W. E. Edmonds. "Now and then is a great outstanding life for a great crisis."

"God is above circumstances. God is able to take care of His own and make all things work together for good, for victory. Since we are believers in Christ and all things are become new what is the use of going in gloom? We are heirs of glory. 'But I live under peculiar burden and darkness.' Victory is our portion."

"A lad used to lie out nights on his back patiently using his own little home made device to measure the movements of the stars. He became the astronomer Ferguson. Cary made his first missionary maps on old pieces of wrapping paper as he cobbed shoes. Livingstone learned the geography of Africa from an old torn book tied on his loom. Great lives come out of hard places and, oh, the transformation!"

"In the darkest days of the Civil war Bishop Simpson called on President Lincoln and found him crushed. He said, 'Bishop, will you pray with me?' I am overwhelmed at the condition of the country. As they rose he said, 'A strange new confidence has come into my heart and I am sure we are to have victory.' And within a week it was so."

"Henry Stanley, in seeking Livingstone, came to a crisis in his life when for weeks the rear column of his men was lost. It seemed, in consequence, all would perish. When he went out he was not a Christian but in this terrible extremity he went to his knees, 'Oh, God, save my men!' In six hours the lost company appeared."

"Tell me prayer doesn't do anything? Prayer is the most powerful thing in the world."

Abundant Life Is Subject of Sermon by Rev. C. M. Crist

An evangelistic sermon was preached yesterday morning to a large congregation at the First Methodist church by Rev. C. M. Crist from the text: "I am come that they might have life and that they may have it more abundantly."

"The purposes of men are often concealed," asserted Rev. Crist. "Frequently men visit this country and do not reveal their mission, whether it be business or diplomacy. But the exact reverse was true of Christ, who came to this earth some 2000 years ago. His mission was open and plain—to give life and give it more abundantly. He came to a dead world and left it pulsating with life."

"Without question, the greatest doctrine of the Bible is the new birth. That is life. But there is a necessity for tarrying for the baptism of the holy spirit. This is the abundant life."

"Paul, the apostle, describes it in Romans: 'I beseech you by the mercies of Christ that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.'"

"The secret of a happy, victorious, fruitful life is found in the abundant life. On man's side is the command, 'tarry ye, present your bodies,' on the Divine side 'ye shall receive,' be transformed, transfigured. God supplies the abundance."

"The abundant life is the theme of every New Testament writer. It permeates the four gospels though each of these four writers present it in a different way and from a different angle. Matthew presents Christ in the form of a king with 'righteousness' as the keyword. Mark describes Him as the 'burden bearer,' the exemplar of service and sacrifice. Luke presents Christ as the 'Son of Man' and 'Teacher' of the gospel of humanity. The keyword is 'love.' John's gospel exalts Christ as the author of life—the giver of abundant life. He opens our eyes to the conception of what we may become through Him."

A 3-year-old boy who danced on keen-edged sword blades with bare feet recently appeared before the Prince of Wales in India.

Wave of Violence in India Now Feared

LONDON, March 13.—The wave of violence which it was feared might sweep India as a result of the arrest of Gandhi, chief national leader, and his colleague, Mahatma Shanka-ral, has failed to materialize, according to dispatches from India today.
Only one minor outbreak was reported.

A dispatch from Lahore to the Daily Telegraph said that Gandhi welcomed arrest as protection against overzealous followers who were insisting upon an aggressive campaign against British rule.

The same dispatch reported a slight outbreak in the village of Udaipur in the Haridwar district, where policemen killed two Indians. The police had been surrounded by a threatening mob.

Gandhi and Shankarlal have expressed willingness to plead guilty to sedition when placed on trial.
They have already had a preliminary hearing, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay.

Pioneer Missionary in Japan Tells of Varied Experiences

At the Sunday morning service at ing talk on his life and experiences from Drew Theological Seminary in 1873, he went almost immediately to Japan. He has seen the railroads increase their mileage from eighteen miles to 20,000. His initial voyage to Japan was taken in a wooden vessel called a "side wheeler." At that time Japan had no navy. He touched at length on the climatic, industrial, geographic and especially the religious conditions of the empire.

Rev. Davidson is a very well-preserved man for one of his years, having passed his 79th birthday, and has a remarkable baritone voice. He sang a solo "Ninety and Nine" in English, and later gave a rendition of the Japanese National anthem in the native language, which he speaks perfectly. This anthem, literally translated, "O Prince, Upon Thy Throne, Ten Thousand Years Reign
On," is always sung in a solemn manner by the natives and impresses foreigners by the profound silence with which it is invariably received.

Rev. Davidson was one of the five men who founded the Methodist Missionary work in Japan. Rev. Julius Soper being also one of the number, and he is very proud of the report he makes of the number of people in the empire who have embraced the Christian faith, who now total over 250,000.

BEST WORK IS DONE BY ENTHUSIASTS. MINISTER SAYS

SAVING OF MEN, PASTOR STATES

IS VALUE OF ONE SOUL IS DESCRIBED BY DR. H. C. FUNK

Not Showing Enough 'Pet' in Church Life, Asserts Rev. C. M. Calderwood

"The best work in the world is done by enthusiasm; the best Christian work has been done by enthusiasts," declared Rev. C. M. Calderwood, yesterday morning, at the Congregational church, in his sermon on "Christian Enthusiasm."

"But," continued Rev. Calderwood, "we find that there is a passing of Christian enthusiasm. This is due to the fact that the heart of the people are not in their Christianity. We need a mental Christianity because there is much loose thinking. People do not reason clearly enough about their Christian belief and Christian actions. But we need especially heart Christianity. People think we know but don't care about the great things in our Christian religion. They are not moved by what we say for we see that we are not moved. They cannot believe that we hold our Christianity as vital because for many of us it is not a matter of the heart."

Need More Enthusiasm
"We are not showing enough enthusiasm in our church work. We go to conventions and get conventional. We are cold and dignified. Nobody gets excited and our routine becomes heavy and stupid. We think we have all eternity to save the world so why should we burn up our energy over it now. We are only mildly sorry for our sins. We need to be baptized with fire."

"When are we going to learn the power of the appeal to the heart? It is out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 'Did not our hearts burn within us as He talked with us by the way?' With the heart, not with the mind, man believeth unto righteousness."

"It is said that 95 per cent of people are ruled by emotions. What are we doing with this 95 per cent? Men and women whose hearts burn are needed if the kingdom of God is to grow. How much heart are the members of the church putting into the work with the children? How much passion are we putting into personal evangelism? What is the testimony of our hearts? How many people did you bring into the Kingdom of God last year? Do we have a passion for Jesus Christ. Are our hearts moved by his love for us. Do we have a passion for the Kingdom of God or do we retard its coming? Do we have a passion for the work of the church or do we avoid its services for trivial reasons?"

Christianity Vital Need
"What a chance we have today! No one criticizes Jesus; unimportant dogmas are discounted; His ideals of service are approved; much of the business of the world is being re-organized in accordance with the ideals of Jesus; world leaders agree that Christianity is the vital need; the doors of the whole world are open to us. We need people of fire with a deep passion for Jesus Christ and His program of world redemption and for getting people to adopt that program of personal loyalty and service to Him."

"The world enthusiasm is not in the New Testament, but enthusiasm itself is there. Jesus was enthusiastic. As a boy He was full of energy. He was willing to dispute with the learned men of the temple. Later on we learn that He was driven into the wilderness. He said: 'I must preach.' He must be about My Father's business. 'I must work.' The people of His time recognized His enthusiasm and said He was beside Himself. Others said 'He hath a devil.' Jesus aroused enthusiasm in others. The early church was enthusiastic about Jesus Himself."

"What are we going to do? How are we going to cure the world's ills except by the program of Jesus? What other solution is there?"

"If your heart burns within you, you will spread the fire to other hearts—other souls will be redeemed. The world will be reorganized. The Kingdom of God, the Golden Age of justice, righteousness and peace will be brought into our sinful world."

Financial Campaign for Tropico Church Made in One Day

The Tropico Presbyterian church held its "every member financial canvass" yesterday afternoon, in accordance with the denomination's "new era plan."

Announcement that about two-thirds of the budget for the year had been pledged was made at the night service by Fred C. Richardson, chairman of the financial visitation. He stated that a number of families had not been at home. Members of the congregation expressed their approval of this report as conditions in the church have been rather unsettled for nine months and the budget adopted was larger than any of previous years.

The fiscal year of the Presbyterian church begins in April and this is preliminary to next year's work. The annual business meeting of the church will be held at a church dinner Wednesday night, March 29.

Eight teams visited the members of the congregation at their homes yesterday. Among those who participated in this service were: S. E. Brown, H. E. Fry, J. A. Adams, Sam Brown, Dr. St. Clair, H. A. Adams, S. H. Wilcox, H. L. Moody, William Malcom, Leo Hyer, H. B. Goldsborough, Miss Nancy St. Clair, Miss Zah Snell, Miss Carol Duncan and Miss Frances Goldsborough.

Just Begun to Touch Possibilities of This Old World, Says Rev. Cole in Sermon

"Saving men is the greatest human task," asserted Rev. C. A. Cole yesterday morning in his sermon on "Heroic Giving," requested by the Young People's Society of the Christian church.

"About fifty years ago we accomplished the task of spanning this continent with a mighty railroad," remarked Rev. Cole. "We have tunneled through the rock-ribbed mountains. We have harnessed the lightning and the wind. But for a century we have preached the gospel in China and today only one in 8000 is reaching up toward God. A hundred years in striving to lift one-fourth of the world into the life of God and barely the fulcrum in place!"

"Despite our hostings of the wondrous achievements of human ingenuity of the past century, we have begun to touch the possibilities of this old world. And, when we shall have reached the consummate achievement, we have yet to perform the greatest task, the lifting up of sin-cursed men to God through the Lord Jesus."

Greatest Work of Ages
"The great work of the ages is to knock off the shackles from men and to restore to them the liberty of the children of God. Here is a work fit for the hands of angels and it holds a joy fit for the hearts of angels."

"We are just awakening to the demands placed upon us. Such a task as we have before us requires heroism—heroes on the fields and heroes to support the work. Heroism is sacrifice, giving."

"The best history of the world is its history of giving. What gifts man has made for love and home. What gifts he has made for country. Witness the war of fifty years ago. How many thousands poured out their lives for their country!"

"Commensurate with the task shall be the sacrifice. So long as we give a week toward the saving of the world, we have a task with such paltry sums and puny efforts? Never!"

Message of Salvation
"Oh, we do but feebly apprehend the privilege of carrying the glad message of salvation to those who sit in the shadow of Hell. May God help us to open our eyes and our hearts and our purses so that some day, when we shall stand on Mount Zion with the great company gathered from every nation and kindred and tongue who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb and we hasten to cast our crowns at His feet, then we shall know the privilege and glory of our work and shall marvel that we were ever chosen for it."

"Friends, the Master sitteth over against the treasury. What shall He see?"

Officials for Tropico C. E. Are Installed

The new officials of the Tropico Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society were installed last night by Rev. Paul Stevens of the board of church extension of the Presbyterian church.

Walter Sullivan of 711 South Central avenue, retiring president, led the meeting, using the topic "Habits." Members spoke of reforming habits of Bible study, prayer, praise giving and breaking undesirable habits.

The new officers are: President, John Server, 1635 Gardena avenue; vice president, Herbert Bruck, 1241 South Orange street; secretary, Miss Sara E. Snell, 116 East Eulalia street; treasurer, Miss Gertrude Ashton, 222 El Bonito street; music committee chairman, Miss Helena Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard; prayer meeting chairman, Miss Nancy St. Clair, 1250 South Maryland avenue; missionary chairman, Miss Frances Goldsborough, 1937 Gardena avenue; look out chairman, Miss Margaret Richardson, 1300 South Central avenue; church loyalty, Harry Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard; quiet hour, Miss Carol Duncan, 1607 South San Fernando road.

SAGE TEADANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Advertisement.

Jesus Christ Would Have Died to Save One Man, Says Minister in Sermon

"The Value of One Soul" was the topic of Dr. H. C. Funk yesterday morning at the First Lutheran church.

Rev. Funk declared that Jesus Christ would have died to save one man and suggested if the Saviour would have offered Himself a willing sacrifice to ransom one soul from eternal death, how wonderful must have been His conception of the value of a single life.

"All of us, like sheep, have gone astray and by thus wandering far away have need of the Great Shepherd to lead us back into the fold again," asserted Dr. Funk. "And to who have been found and are now resting safely in the fold, how precious are the words 'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters; yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evil for Thou art with me—Thy rod and Thy staff comfort me.'"

Some Have Strayed
"But they are not all safe yet and it may be that even here there is one who has strayed away and is wandering about the cold desert world. If so, notice the tender shepherd's care: 'What man of you having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness and go after that which is lost until he find it?'"

"In too many of our churches it takes nine-tenths of the minister's time to look after the ninety and nine. Every man and woman and every child in this house belongs to Him for you have been bought with a precious price. As we have said, all men belong to Him, but some have wandered away, and, if there is one here today, He knows it for He is still going about seeking to save the lost sheep. The Master is tenderly calling these now. We have heard His sweet voice as He went about looking for one soul. So it was he spied Zaccheus in the tree and the woman at the well. Will you not call out to Him this morning and say: 'Here am I, Lord, save me?'"

MR. AND MRS. HOYT HOSTS

Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings relief from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Advertisement.

Let Service Station Watch Over Batteries

Battery palmistry is a new field which pays its promoters nicely until the car drivers get wise to the trick, according to Henry Kuehn of the E. W. Cizek Service station, 309 South Brand boulevard.

"It is the most natural thing in the world to be attracted by claims of wonderful solutions that charge batteries instantly, especially if you have had any recent trouble with that particular organ of your car," said Mr. Kuehn.

"A storage battery is made of lead and lead compounds which absorb acid from the battery solution as it delivers current. The acid is driven from the plates again when the battery is recharged either while on the car or at a service station. Thus a continuous interchange of acid to plates and back to the solution is kept up.

"To begin with, the battery is fully charged and has a solution which contains the proper amount of acid. Because the plates absorb this acid as it discharges some slight-of-hand artists have been making a nice living by pouring more acid into it. Of course, the additional acid makes the battery operative, but when it is charged on the car through normal driving, the acid in the plates comes out and then trouble results. According to the Willard Storage Battery company, the solution becomes too strong in such cases and some of it has to be taken out and replaced with distilled water.

"There are no secrets about the dopes at all, but it is best to let only an authorized service station take care of storage batteries.

TO WEED OUT U. S. ARMY

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.—The house military affairs committee has given its approval to the measure sanctioned by the war department calling for "weeding out" of least efficient officers in the United States army. The committee sent the bill to the house. An attempt will be made to secure house action this week.

The bill would create a "plucking board" to eliminate officers of higher ranks not up to the war department's efficiency standard. It would bring the officer personnel down to 13,000 men.

Equal Rights in All Professions, Her View

By DAVID M. CHURCH

Written for International News Service LONDON, March 13.—"The greatest profession for women will always be motherhood, but women must have equal rights with men in all professions, including statesmanship," Lady Rhonda declared in an exclusive interview given to the International News Service, the first interview that she has granted since having demanded a seat in the house of lords.

Lady Rhonda, who is recognized to be London's biggest business woman, is leading the fight for women to sit in the house of lords.

"It may be that in days before the vote for women was secured, the woman's movement received more newspaper headlines than now," she continued, "but that probably was accounted for by the fact that in those days women had to resort to militancy, which was apt to receive headlines."

"The need for militancy is past," she added. "Women now are enfranchised. They are working steadily toward the ends they have in view and they are succeeding."

"I believe that women will and must take an increasing interest in politics because there are always many questions under discussion that affect them."

"I do not think that there will ever be an exclusive women's party, because women on ordinary political questions are likely to think along the same lines as men."

"The part of women in public life is bound to grow," she continued. "Before the next general election, I think we shall see twenty or thirty women candidates for office. It may be that within a few years we shall see a strong feminine representation in parliament."

"When women have an equal part in public affairs with men, it is not likely that there will be differences of opinion along sex lines. It will result in enlarging the pool of political opinion."

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS WILL GIVE TRIO OF PLAYS

Miss Mona C. Gardiner, Coach in Dramatics, Preparing Casts for Performances

The program of the three one-act plays to be presented Thursday and Friday night in the high school auditorium is one of variety, according to Miss Mona C. Gardiner, dramatic coach. They consist of a fantasy, a social satire and a character play.

The titles suggest the type of play being "Hearts-to-Mend" by Harry A. Overstreet, "Sham" by Frank G. Tompkins and "Neighbors" by Zona Gale.

The young actors and actresses in the first play are Miss Doris Packer as Pierrette, William Justema as Pierrot and Robert Fry as the Tins-to-Mend-Man.

Kenneth Jackson is Charles, the householder, Miss Dorothy Pearl is Clara, his wife, and Paul Hutchinson takes the part of a sophisticated thief in "Sham."

"Neighbors" has quite a lengthy cast. Miss Hazel Linkogel will play the part of Grandma. Others to take part are Miss Evelyn Gregg, Miss Lucy Strothers, Miss Mary Florence Pate, Fred Terzo and Benjamin Robinson.

Members of the student body of Glendale Union high school consider the dramatic activities of the school quite important.

Charles Ray Here in Corking Comedy on T. D. & L. Screen

Charles Ray has another corking comedy role in "R. S. V. P." The First National attraction which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre for the last times tonight. This time the popular boyish star plays his pranks as an amateur artist who dabbles indiscriminately in paint and love. He is equally successful in the gauntlet of trouble in trying to assure himself of three square meals a day without giving away to his girl the fact that he is just struggling for a living.

The role fits the star like the evening clothes he wears. In the part of Richard Morgan, Ray has abundant opportunity to display the droll line of comedy for which he has become famous. He is ably assisted in his character by Harry Myers, star of "The Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

Kinograms, Benton Holmes' Travels and special comedy make up the balance of the show—and a very thoroughly enjoyable one at that.

'Hail the Woman' Is Gripping Photoplay

Reasons why "Hail the Woman," the Thomas H. Ince production which will be presented at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow for a three days' showing is the most talked of film of the present year are summed up as follows by Ralph Allan:

"It is a gripping story of real people, for real people. It is the solution of the much-debated question: 'What does the public mean by a good picture?' It has a cast of unequalled genius and brilliance in roles that appeal through breathless action. It is built on a theme that arouses the deepest sentiments in the human heart. It plays upon the weakness of some—offset by the tremendous strength of character of others. It invites discussion and controversy of the kind that make people flock to theatres to test their views and principles."

SOLOMON'S VIEW OF LIFE RELATED BY REV. CORNELL

Need of World Today Is for Those to Apply Lessons Learned From Past

"Solomon, His View of Life" was the sermon topic yesterday morning by Rev. C. E. Cornell at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

"The Book of Ecclesiastes was written by Solomon, the King," asserted Rev. Cornell. "It can easily be seen that it was written by a man who had sounded the depths and climbed the heights of worldly ambition and power and found nothing in them either to satisfy or endure. The word translated 'vanity' occurs thirty-seven times. This word signifies a breath of wind and so it comes to mean something unsubstantial, fleeting and unstable. It is that which leaves no appreciable effect behind; it is that which fails to satisfy the real wants of man."

"Solomon applies the word to the world of nature and the world of man. Again and again he returns to the old refrain—'Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher, all is vanity.' It is the sorrowful wail of a pessimist, the cry of a disappointed man, the unspeakably sad lament of one whose life has been a failure."

Promises Are Fulfilled
"When Solomon ascended the throne of Israel the gifts of wisdom and understanding were promised him and these promises were abundantly fulfilled. It would seem as if his life might be crowned with success but he tells us that the gift of wisdom had only brought disappointment, had only enabled him to see the imperfections of human achievement. Every new addition to his knowledge revealed to him how much there was beyond which he could not know. Nature became to him more and more a mystery."

"I gave my heart to know wisdom and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit for in much wisdom is much grief and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow."

Great Wealth Comes
"And as with wisdom so with his great gift of wealth. It came to him in unstinted measure from the mines, the forests, the rivers and the fields and he knew how to spend it for the gratification of his earthly pleasures."

What was the result? Was Solomon happy? With a pathos which we of the Twentieth Century cannot help but feel he passes judgment on all this splendor and wealth. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought and on all the labor that I had labored to do and behold all was vanity and vexation of spirit and there was no profit under the sun."

"The life of man lived apart from God is a miserable, abject, hopeless failure. This is the testimony of all human history, of all human experience. It was so for Solomon. Apart from God, intellectual ability or, as Solomon calls it, 'wisdom,' is a failure. Apart from God, wealth and all that wealth commands, fails to satisfy the deepest longings of the human soul. Apart from God, worldly honors, position, and powers, personal gifts of beauty or strength fail to win enduring success."

Need Spiritual Ideals
"Apart from God our schools, colleges and universities may graduate young men and women as mental acrobats or muscular athletes, but without moral or spiritual ideals and so fail to achieve their purpose. Apart from God we may build up a brilliant civilization with all the adornments that material wealth can supply and yet that civilization may be corrupt and rotten at the heart because it has not God for its builder."

"The modern crying need of the world today is for men and women strong enough and brave enough to apply the lessons we have learned from the lessons of the past to the great and pressing problems of the present and the future. May God give us clearness of vision and strength of purpose to see and do His will here on earth as it is done in Heaven and by His grace turn away our eyes lest they behold vanity."

Repeating Different From Believing, Says Rev. H. G. Preston

"Repeating a creed is a different thing from believing it," asserted Rev. H. G. Preston yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church in his sermon on "The Faith That Counts."

"Thomas was a disciple of Jesus long before he really knew and understood him. It was not until, with open eyes, he saw the nail prints in the hands of the living Christ that he came to believe in Jesus."

"How may we know that we believe in him? The test is worship, which is not lip service but consecration of time, energy and self itself to Christ. A man is counted as a good citizen not by his ability to sing 'My Country 'Tis of Thee' alone but by his wholehearted accord with everything that makes our republic."

"The only faith that makes for salvation is the faith that appropriates. The word 'thou' in our Lord's question takes in the whole man—mind, conscience, heart and will. It is the first personal pronoun possessive which brings us into vital harmony with God."

"An intellectual apprehension of truth based on the best of evidence frequently leaves the soul as unmoved as are the depths of the sea by the winds that blow over it."

LOCAL SINGERS TO PROVIDE HARMONY AT GATHERING

They Will Sing at Meeting of Boy Scouts Tonight; News of Glendale's Vicinity

Judge Gavin W. Craig of Eagle Rock, Charles B. Guthrie, well-known reader, Mayor Spencer Robinson and Harry Girard of Glendale and G. P. Willey, the last three mentioned being soloists of note, will be the principals on a program prepared by Emil Swanson for the Boy Scout meeting to be held in the Central school at Eagle Rock tonight. It is expected by Harold Benner, scout executive, that Eagle Rock will pledge its part of the budget for the Verdugo Hills council tonight. Invitations have been sent the prominent citizens of that city.

City in the Making
A petition for the incorporation of Tujunga as a city of the sixth class is in circulation and already has more than the necessary number of signatures. The boundaries proposed include roughly the territory east of Third street to Haines Canyon Road, leaving out most of the farming lands north of Hill and west of Walnut and leaving out most of the high ground north of El Centro and east of Cedar, where active opposition to incorporation developed when the plan was first broached last summer. Practically all the business district and the land on both sides of the highway from the big olive orchard to the Begue ranch are included.

School Bonds Carry
Monte Vista District School Bonds for a new building carried in last week's election 110 for 24 against. The amount called for is $18,000. In 18 bonds $1000 each over a period of 18 years. It is stated that as soon as the bonds can be sold work will be started, as schools in the valley are overcrowded.

Library Shows Growth
The Eagle Rock public library is keeping up with the growth of the city. In comparing statistics with a year ago it was found that the circulation for January, 1921, was 3484, compared with 5025 in January, 1922; and February, 1921, 3221 against 4825 for February, 1922. There are now 271 active card holders drawing books from the library.

Need Wider Highway

Improve Golindrina Park
Plans are under consideration for the first unit in the proposed improvement of Golindrina park at the foot of Sunset boulevard in a manner to make it of general use to the people of Tujunga and an attraction to the tourist and casual visitor. The dance platform built last fall for the Moon Festival is to be covered and projecting room provided for moving pictures.

Great Northwest Is Cleverly Picturized In Glendale's Film

The great northwest woods are really the central influence in the latest Goldwyn picture, "The Man from Lost River," which is presented at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. The action of Katharine Newlin Burt's photoplay takes place in a lumber camp where the men lead crude lives close to nature. The softening influence of women is absent, though in the camp dwells an orphan girl, the pride of the men. Into this group comes a sophisticated easterner who falls in love with the girl and marries her. The dramatic conflict entwines the camp foreman, who has silently adored the girl all the while; and it is unworthiness of her husband in a time of crisis that both removes him from the scene and shows the girl the worth of a noble man's love.

One of the marvelous scenes in this Frank Lloyd production shows the lumberjacks in the act of felling a giant tree. The picture was taken on Lake Huntington, in the Sierras, on the government reservation there. Movie Chats and a news reel, not to forget the comedy, round out the pleasing program.
